Hi dear Sbenny,

Thank you for your mail. Me and my team discussed about it and are ready to start this partnership with you, which means we will grant you full copyright permissions about our app "The Cursed Castle - Online RPG".

Please see the attached letter as per your request, signed and stamped.

Kind regards,

Hi dear Copyright holder, we write you this letter to offer you a partnership which will offer you a limitless promotion on our website (sbenny.com) which is a very popular android gaming website with a community of over 1,500,000 registered users. We won't require any payments or compensation on your end but, legally, we're required to ask for your permission in order to promote your app at our website, as we need the rights to do so.

Our promotion will work by creating a featured article at our website which will contain a link to your official app at Google Play, and may also include a link to a custom/modified version we'll create thanks to our team of programmers, and will be shared only to our community. External sharing will not be allowed and we'll set in place all the required measures to make sure your app isn't spread without YOUR permission.

In particular we will:

- 1) Require that all users are registered to our community in order to download the custom version of your app;
- 2) Require that all users input a special license we generate for each user in order to play it.

This will prevent users from sharing it elsewhere and without permission.

If you agree and would like to provide us the required permissions to do so, kindly sign the attached letter and return it to us (even a document scan will be fine).

For any doubts or requests, feel free to reply and we will be happy to get back to you.

Thank you for your collaboration,
Sbenny - Head of Sbenny.com

LETTER OF COPYRIGHT PERMISSIONS

Dear Copyright holder:

We understand that you are the copyright holder for the App titled "The Cursed Castle – Online RPG" originally published on Google Play at the following URL:
<https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=com.webprojects.TheCastle>

Sbenny.com would like to include the above-mentioned app for promotional means which will be distributed for free to our community (1,500,000 registered users) and may include a modified version of the App, exclusively for our users. We will also post the report on our corporate intranet. Proper acknowledgement will be included with the reproduction of the article about your App.

If you agree to provide us with permission, please sign both copies of this permission letter and return one copy to us by email (a scanned version is fine) or regular mail.

We appreciate your consideration of our permissions request.

Sincerely,

Sbenny – Administrator
